

Our Instructor-Led Virtual Classroom Training Earned 4.4 on a 5.0 Scale

We are very proud of the fact that our Live eLearning events are being as well received as our traditional classroom workshops.

ProTech has been adapting our world renowned workshops to be taught in a live online virtual classroom for several years.

These classes are taught over the Internet by the very same instructors and access the very same lab environments as our standard classroom offerings.

In 2005, ProTech scored 4.5/5.0 across all of the criteria on our classroom offerings, in the same year our Live eLearning training earned 4.4/5.0 showing no significant diminishment in the quality of our deliveries.

Just some of the student comments include ...

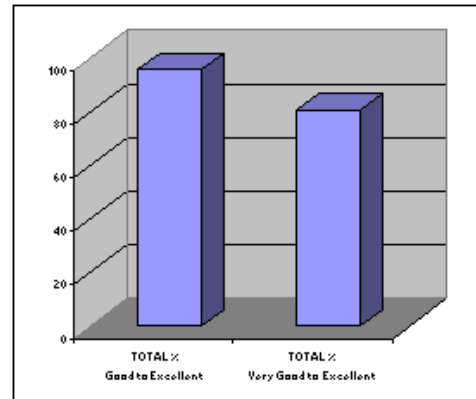

"The course pace and instructor knowledge were excellent. The online environment saved my company a TON of money, and spared me having to travel. While at the same time, access to a live instructor afforded me a good opportunity to learn the material."

"I really enjoyed the class. This is first time I experienced a live interactive class. It felt like I was in a classroom."

"I liked the ELearning concept. I still am in amazement this is possible--very slick. I was surprised at the sophistication possible with, as an example, the Leopard window."

"A unique experience learning over the web with never having to leave your desk. I had concerns regarding the ability to ask questions and hands on but was able to do so."

"Online course format worked out well, especially with the sharing part where one student could do online stuff and show others."
